I am a warm, outgoing, focused and highly experienced communicator, developer of people and teams, holding excellent customer service skills. I am looking for a fresh challenge in senior management with a progressive organisation. I have excellent organisation skills and can put together business plans, training and development programmes, and business reports. I am trustworthy and highly dependable and can co-ordinate tasks and deliver results. I learn fast, am open to any company training to advance my career, adaptable, versatile and enjoy new challenges.
