Work Experience

Bar Manager

J D Wetherspoon PLC-Norwich

August 2021 to April 2026

Managing the daily P&L of a multi-million pound business, driving record sales and profits to surpass company targets set by the finance department while keeping staff members motivated and developing their customer service skills to continually enhance the customer experience and building efficiency within the business.

Delivering pre-shift briefings to staff and ensuring the smooth running of day to day operations within the pub and offering ongoing support to other employees to maintain motivation.

Receive and deliver training on key functional areas of the business, such as cash control. Extra responsibilities include cashing up at the end of every night, counting stock and ordering accordingly to ensure we keep up with demand at all times and that all products are available 100% of the time.

Rota planning and formulation, catering for a business with 120 staff members who all have their own individually tailored availability while planning time off for several members of staff at a time

Ordering and managing stock levels, ensuring the business has enough stock to see through key trading days

Collaborating with other members of the management team to ensure the smoothest running of service as possible while providing well-being support to members of the team who need it and making reasonable adjustments to their schedules to accommodate to their needs.

Taking lead role in personnel related matters within the business, managing staff files, managing and arranging staff inductions in a compliant way, dealing with staff grievances and charing disciplinary hearings. Responsible for arranging and charing attendance review meetings and long term sickness meetings to help employees get back into the business in a way that helps them.

Bar Manager

Norfolk and Norwich Festival-Norwich City Centre, Norfolk

May 2023 to June 2023

Recruiting, training, ordering stock and ordering the delivery of equipment ready for a two week long yearly pop-up festival. Liaising regularly with the Festival general manager and creative director to ensure that we create an open and friendly atmosphere at all times. Working closely with Adnams, the main festival sponsor to deliver their products at a high, consistent standard.

Duty Manager

Norfolk & Norwich Festival-Norwich, Norfolk

May 2022 to June 2022

Help run the day to day operations of a temporary pop-up bar for the Norfolk and Norwich Festival. Responsibilities included accurate stock rotation and cellar management. Looking after a team of around

7 members on shift, I would regularly liaise with the event organisers in order to create an amazing experience for groups who had private and corporate bookings.

Kitchen Supervisor

J D Wetherspoon PLC-Norwich

March 2016 to August 2021

Co-ordinating team members, plating up food, and preparing food for service, including cutting up fruit and vegetables and portioning up to ensure stock levels are maintained. Ensuring that everyone is highly motivated and prepares meals according to specification and within a 10 minutes prep time. Training new and existing staff to comply with company policy and food safety regulations. Completing regular stock intakes, logging wastage and accepting deliveries. In addition to the stated information above I take responsibility of the due diligence on a regular basis, probing food products to ensure they are cooked to spec and , checking fridge and freezer temperatures while completing any other necessary weekly cleaning tasks.

Accomplishments include achieving a 5/5 Food hygiene rating from our latest EHO inspection, in addition to this I have been personally recognised as key team member by my area manager, receiving a 'Thank you letter' with a gift card.
